Watching my grand mother in action and trying my best to match her appetite, I glibly remarked that if she kept ignoring the words of wisdom of the health gurus and diet experts, she would die young. This may sound like a cruel thing for a grandson to have said to his grand mother, but the fact that she was in her ninety-ninth year at the time of the meal in question, helps to put my remark into perspective.

13) Prepare notes on the following passage. An editorial is an opinion piece written by the senior editorial staff or publisher of a newspaper or magazine. Usually unsigned, editorials are supposed to reflect the opinion of the periodical. A newspaper editorial, unlike other forms of newspaper writing, permits the use of the first person and also the expression of the opinion of the Editorial Board on the publisher unambiguously and unveiled. Sometimes Editorials are written to mobilize public opinion. (Weightage : 6x2=12)
